

Toast Toppers

Everybody loves crisp, hot buttered toast, even more when it's topped with something sweet or spicy.

Orange Sugar

Blend 1 tablespoon soft butter and 3 tablespoons sifted confectioners' sugar. Stir in 1 teaspoon grated orange rind and 1 teaspoon orange juice. Spread on unbuttered toast. Cut in half crosswise.

Cranberry

Spread hot toast with cranberry jelly. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

Cinnamon Mix

Combine 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 2 tablespoons sugar. Sprinkle on hot buttered toast. Cut in strips.

Raisin Peanut Butter

Mix $\frac{1}{4}$ cup crunchy peanut butter, 2 tablespoons chopped seedless raisins, 2 tablespoons orange juice. Spread on hot toast. Cut in 3 diagonally.

Caramel Coconut

Blend 1 tablespoon soft butter, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, and 2 tablespoons of flaked coconut. Spread on unbuttered toast and toast under broiler until it bubbles. Watch carefully.

Breakfast Treats

What is breakfast without fruit? Orange juice, sliced bananas, and berries are everyday favorites. But have you ever thought of combining different fruits to add zip to the morning? You might start with these and then invent some combos of your own.

Polka Dot Day-Brightener: Raisins sprinkled on applesauce

A Taste of Hawaii: Strawberries and pineapple chunks

Fourth of July Firecracker: Blueberries and raspberries

Tropical Morning: Sliced bananas in orange juice

Peach Melba: Raspberries and sliced peaches

Real Cool Combo: Just-thawed frozen strawberries and seedless grapes

Easy and Good

Orange Juice
Kix with Milk
French Toast (page 85)
with Syrup and Butter
(heated together)
Cocoa Continental (page 84)

A Cheery Breakfast

Cheerios sprinkled over Pink Applesauce (page 133)
Fried Eggs, Sunny Side Up
Cinnamon Muffins (page 100)
Milk

Summer Holiday Special

Wheaties and Softened Ice Cream topped with Frozen Strawberries Hot Buttered Toast Strips with Bright Jelly
Cold Milk